CONCLUSION

and the system of economic and social policies.

The present paper is an attempt to analyze the economic and social situation in the context of the alternative economic and social models. It is based on the research conducted in the field of economic and social studies.

The paper discusses the importance of economic and social indicators in the context of the alternative economic and social models.

In conclusion, the paper demonstrates the significance of economic and social indicators in the context of the alternative economic and social models.

The findings of this paper provide a basis for future research in the field of economic and social studies.

The paper concludes that economic and social indicators are crucial in the context of

the alternative economic and social models.

REFERENCES